When Lily wakes up one morning to find ten teddy bears in her bed, she is both surprised and excited. She has never had so many teddy bears to cuddle with before! But as the day goes on, Lily begins to realize that having ten teddy bears in her bed is not as much fun as she thought it would be. The bears are too big and take up too much space, and they keep waking Lily up in the middle of the night.

Lily tries to find a way to get rid of the bears, but they are too cute and cuddly to give away. So, she decides to keep them, and they all become her best friends. Lily and the bears go on many adventures together, and they learn a lot about sharing, kindness, and imagination.
